

Piazza Del Campo

Description

Piazza Del Campo was first paved in 1349, becoming a vital part of the medieval city of Siena in Italy, and recently a UNESCO World Heritage Site. It is a historic center and a main public space surrounded by beautiful architecture. A few of many highlights here include Fonte Gaia and Torre del Mangia. The shell-shaped square also hosts annual road cycling races and horse-race events.

Metadata

- City: Siena
- Country: Italy
- GPS Coordinates: 43.3184° N, 11.3317° E
- Landmarks: Famous Districts
- Cadastral Number: IT.L.FD.S.1